f
Z
7817
N420s
1958:2

REF

For Reference

NOT TO BE TAKEN FROM THIS ROOM

Gaylord
SPEEDY BINDER
Syracuse, N. Y.
Stockton, Calif.

NEW YORK.

HOLBROOK LIBRARY PACIFIC SCHOOL OF RELIGION

Selected List

CURRENT BOOKS AND PAMPHLETS

(Items published in 1956, 1957, and 1958 only)

Added to the collection of

THE MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY

Between July 1, 1958 and December 31, 1958

HOLBROOK LIBRARY PACIFIC SCHOOL OF RELIGION

3041 Broadway
New York 27, New York
1959

68530

f
Z
7817
N42Os
1958:2
Ref.

New York. Missionary research Library

F O R E W O R D

The SELECTED LIST OF CURRENT BOOKS AND PAMPHLETS is published twice a year. The present issue includes accessions from July through December, 1958; no titles published before 1956 are listed. Only the more important pamphlets have been included, and a few selected government documents. Periodicals and reports are not listed.

The Missionary Research Library does not act as agent for purchasing books. Orders should be sent direct to the publishers or through your own book agency. Prices listed for United Nations publications are United States prices since these publications may be obtained at the International Documents Service of Columbia University Press in New York City. In the case of foreign publications, the price has been given in the currency of the country of publication whenever this information is readily available. Your local book agent or library can indicate where foreign publications may be secured in this country. Friendship Press is the agent for Edinburgh House and the World Dominion Press.

The staff of the Missionary Research Library cooperates in the preparation of book annotations for the Selected List.

Frank W. Price

Director

Additional copies of this Selected List and of previous annual Selected Lists may be purchased at fifty cents each. Payment with order will be appreciated.

MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY
3041 Broadway
New York 27, New York
January 1959

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2025

https://archive.org/details/international-bulletin-of-mission-research_1958_2

C O N T E N T S

I. HISTORY
- A. History of Missions 1
- B. History of Missionary Societies 1
- C. Church History 2
- D. Ecumenical Movement; Church Union and Cooperation..... 2
- E. Roman Catholic Missions 2

II. BIOGRAPHY
- A. Missionaries 3
- B. National Christians 6
- C. General 6

III. THEORY AND PRINCIPLES OF MISSIONS; THEOLOGY OF MISSIONS 7

IV. MISSIONARY METHODS
- A. Evangelism and Church Work; Communication of the Gospel . 7
- B. Christian Education 8
- C. Christian Literature and Literacy Education 8
- D. Audio-Visual Communications 8
- E. Medical Missions 8
- F. Rural and Agricultural Missions 8
- G. General Description of Missionary Activities 8
- H. Administration and Promotion of Missions; Training of Missionary Personnel 8
- I. Other Methods and Problems 8

V. REFERENCE
- A. Missions 9
- B. Yearbooks and Directories 9
- C. Bibliographies and General 9

VI. AREAS AND COUNTRIES: (1) GENERAL (2) MISSIONS, CHURCHES
- A. North America 10
- B. The Caribbean Islands and the Guianas 11
- C. Latin America 12
- D. Europe 14
- E. Africa (South of the Sahara) 14
- F. Near East, Middle East and North Africa 18
- G. Central Asia 20
- H. Southern Asia 20
- I. South East Asia 23
- J. East Asia 25
- K. Pacific Islands 27
- L. Australia and New Zealand 29
- M. General 29

VII. CHRISTIANITY AND NON-CHRISTIAN RELIGIONS; OTHER IDEOLOGIES
A. Religions of Primitive Peoples 29
B. The Great Non-Christian Religions 30
C. Judaism 31
D. Communism 31
E. General and Other Religions 33

VIII. SOCIAL AND POLITICAL SCIENCE 34

IX. ANTHROPOLOGY AND RELATED SUBJECTS 36

X. THEOLOGICAL, WORSHIP AND DEVOTIONAL 37

XI. PUBLICATIONS OF THE MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY 38

I. HISTORY

A. HISTORY OF MISSIONS

1. Church of England.
The Moving Spirit; a Survey of the Life and Work of the Churches of the Anglican Communion. London, The Church Information Board, 1958. 135 p. 5s. Interesting, readable report of Anglican missions and churches in all countries, prepared for the recent Lambeth Conference. Indispensable for libraries and students of the world-wide Church.

2. Varg, Paul A.
Missionaries, Chinese, and Diplomats: The American Protestant Missionary Movement in China, 1890-1952. Princeton, Princeton University Press, 1958. 335 p. $6.00 A well documented history of Protestant missions in China seen in relation to United States foreign policy and China's political and social revolution. The author is professor of history at Ohio State University, sympathetic to missionaries, but also critical of the philosophy of western missionary effort. Essential reading, in spite of some weakness in facts and interpretation.

See also: 1, 11, 120, 208.

B. HISTORY OF MISSIONARY SOCIETIES

3. Frerichs, A. C.
Anutu Conquers in New Guinea. Columbus, Ohio, The Wartburg Press, 1957. 272 p. $1.25 A history of seventy years of mission work of the Lutheran Church in New Guinea.

4. Guilcher, René-Francois.
La Société des Missions Africaines. Lyon, France, Procure des Missions Africaines, 1956. 176 p. $3.50 History of the French Society for Missions in Africa (founded in 1954) and description of its present activities.

5. Pollock, J. C.
Shadows Fall Apart: The Story of the Zenana Bible and Medical Mission. London, Hodder and Stoughton, 1958. 221 p. 12/6 For more than a century this great interdenominational mission has served India's women. The author has "sought to feature the most significant events, capture the spirit of the Mission's work and ideals, and portray the outstanding personalities." A useful contribution to the growing library of missionary history.

6. Reishus, Martha.
Hearts and Hands Uplifted. Minneapolis, Augsburg, 1958. 136 p. $2.50 Written in commemoration of the 40th anniversary of the Evangelical Lutheran Women's Missionary Federation; a story of devoted service to the cause of world missions.

7. United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations.
We Have One Future. N. Y., 1958. 64 p. A brochure on the world missionary program of the new United Presbyterian Church, merger of the Presbyterian Church in U.S.A. and United Presbyterian Church in N.A. Fine text, excellent illustrations, apt quotations; an impressive document.

8. Webster, Douglas.
Listen to the Wind. London, Highway Press, 1948. 141 p. 2/6 The Church Missionary Society at work in Africa, the Middle East, India, Pakistan, Ceylon and East Asia. A fine, inspiring book for all interested in the world-wide Christian mission.

C. CHURCH HISTORY

9. The Lambeth Conference 1958; the Encyclical Letter from the Bishops together with the Resolutions and Reports. London, Seabury Press, 1958. 171 p. 7/6 Reports of addresses and discussions on the Bible, Church Unity, Anglican Progress, Peace, Family Life; Message and Resolutions.

D. ECUMENICAL MOVEMENT; CHURCH UNION AND COOPERATION

10. Kurosaki, Kikichi.
One Body in Christ: The Ecclesia of the New Testament. Kobe, Eternal Life Press, 1954. 80 p. $0.75 Meditations on Christian unity by a Japanese Bible scholar and commentator, a disciple of Kanzo Uchimura.

11. Orchard, R. K. ed.
The Ghana Assembly of the International Missionary Council. London, Edinburgh House Press, 1958. 240 p. 12s. 6d. Important volume of preparatory papers, speeches and reports, worthy of a place on the growing shelf of missionary and ecumenical conference records. Erik W. Nielsen contributes an able and thought-provoking essay on "The Role of the I.M.C."

12. Weigel, Gustave.
A Catholic Primer on the Ecumenical Movement. Westminister, Maryland, Newman Press, 1957. 79 p. $0.95 (Woodstock Papers No. 1) First of a series of papers being prepared by the Pontifical Faculty of Theology at Woodstock, Maryland. A scholarly critique of non-Roman and Roman Catholic ecumenism, and of the confrontation of Roman Catholic theology with ecumenism.

See also: 9, 50, 51, 161, 170.

E. ROMAN CATHOLIC MISSIONS

13. Bouchaud, Joseph R. P.
L'Église en Afrique Noire. Paris, La Palatine, 1958. 189 p. $2.10 Informing description of Roman Catholic practice and policy as adapted to rapidly changing Africa, particularly in the bow from Dakar to Brazzaville.

14. Burke, Thomas J. M., S. J., ed.
Catholic Missions: Four Great Encyclicals. N. Y., Fordham University Press, 1957. 83 p. $1.50 Papal encyclicals on missions by Benedict XV, Pius XI (Rerum Ecclesiae) and Pius XII, translated into English, with an introduction and index of major topics.

15. Mission Secretariat.
U.S. Catholic Overseas Missionary Personnel. Washington, D. C., Mission Secretariat, 1958. 120 p. $1.08 Carefully prepared statistics of Roman Catholic foreign missionary work from the United States, showing 6,124 priests, Brothers, Sisters and laity serving abroad. Introduction by Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, comparative field statistics, lists of missionary societies and institutes. Important reference book.

16. Monsterleet, Jean.
L'Église du Japon. Toulouse, France, Apostolat de la Prière, 1958. 269 p. $3.60 (in U.S.A.) Well-written history of Roman Catholicism in Japan from the "first spring" of the 16th century to the "second spring" of the past hundred years, with a very frank recognition of the obstacles and difficulties that the Church has faced.

17. Mulders, Alph.
Missiegeschiedenis. (Bijdragen van het Missiologisch Instituut der R. K. Universiteit te Nijmegen, v. 5) Bussum, Nederlands, Paul Brand, 1957. 565 p. $8.58 Universal history of Roman Catholic missions.

18. Williams, Frederick Vincent.
The Martyrs of Nagasaki. Fresno, Calif., Academy Library Guild, 1956. 160 p. $3.75 A continuous history of Roman Catholicism in Japan, from Francis Xavier to the atomic bombing of Nagasaki, based upon new researches, with special attention to the hosts of martyrs for the faith and the "discovery of the lost Christians" in 1865.

See also: 21, 27, 28, 32, 56, 92.

II. B I O G R A P H Y

A. MISSIONARIES

19. A Hebrew-Christian.
Go Tell My People. New York, Vantage, 1958. 70 p. $2.50 The author, a converted Jewess, describes simply her world missionary experiences, in Christian witness to Jewish homes.

20. Bell, Ralph.
John G. Paton; Apostle to the New Hebrides. Butler, Ind., The Higley Press, 1957. 240 p. $3.00 Biography of the great missionary pioneer of the Victorian age of missions, an account of his and his associates' work on Tanna, then said to be the most difficult mission field in the world.

21. Cacella, Monsignor Joseph.
Jungle Call. N.Y., St. Anthony's Welfare Center, 1956. 399 p. $3.50 A Roman Catholic priest from Portugal tells the exciting story of his missionary service among the Indians of the Amazon jungle.

22. Clapp, Frances Benton.
Mary Florence Denton and the Doshisha. Kyoto, Doshisha University Press, 1955. 439 p. ¥ 650 Sixty years a Congregational missionary in Japan, intimately associated with Doshisha University, twice decorated by the Japanese government, a magnetic and unforgettable personality - this biography is a loving record of Miss Denton, "Doshisah Treasure," and of her unique life and work.

23. Corey, Stephen J.
As I Look Back. Lexington, Ky., College of the Bible, 1958. 88 p. np. Autobiography of Dr. Stephen J. Corey, for many years Secretary and then President of Disciples of Christ foreign missions agency, later President of the College of the Bible.

24. De Franch, Ramon Sugranyes.
Raymond Lulle: Docteur des Missions. Schöneck-Beckenried, Switzerland, Administration de la Nouvelle de Science Missionaire, 1954. 151 p.
A new biography of Raymond Lull, missionary of the 13th century, with translations of important texts and valuable notes.

25. Dominian, Helen G.
Apostle of Brazil; the Biography of Padre José de Anchieta, S. J. (1534-1597). N.Y., Exposition Press, 1958. 346 p. $5.00 Portrait of a saintly man, a sixteenth century Roman Catholic priest, who spent his entire adult life to bring health, education and enlightenment to the natives of Brazil.

26. Elliot, Elisabeth.
Shadow of the Almighty; the Life and Testament of Jim Elliot. N.Y., Harper, 1958. 256 p. $3.75 Biography of Jim Elliot, young missionary of the Wycliffe Bible Translators, who was murdered along with four others by the Auca Indians of Ecuador in 1956. A deeply moving story, embodying selections from Elliot's journals and letters, prepared by his wife, author of Gates of Splendor.

27. Hyde, Douglas.
God's Bandit; the Story of Don Orione "Father of the Poor." London, Peter Davies, 1957. 208 p. $3.75 Biography of an unusual man who, in due time, may very well become a recognized saint of the Roman Catholic church; his life work was a continuous struggle for reconciliation of the old conception of charity with the modern search for State-organized social justice.

28. Kane, George L., ed.
Why I Became a Missioner. Westminster, Md., Newman Press, 1958. 246 p. $3.25 Twenty autobiographical sketches by Roman Catholic missionary priests, sisters, brothers and lay missioners from many countries. Warm, sincere and moving.

29. Lansborough, Marjorie.
Dr. Lan. London, Presbyterian Church of England Publication Committee, 1957. 95 p. 5/ A short biography of Dr. David Landsborough, pioneer medical missionary of the English Presbyterian Church in Formosa, 1895-1936; written by his wife.

30. Larsen, E. Gjaerulf.
Af en Ringkøbingdrengs Historie (The Story of a Ringkobing Boy). Hellerup, Det Danske Missionsselskab, 1958. 79 p. Biography of Soren Anton Ellerbek, M. D. (1872-1956), first medical missionary of the Danish Missionary Society to China; he served for 36 years in Machuria, in the later period as Head of the Mukden Medical College.

31. McFarland, Bertha Blount.
McFarland of Siam. N.Y., Vantage Press, 1958. 313 p. $4.95 Biography of a well-known medical missionary in Siam from 1886 to 1942, written by his wife. It deals mainly with Dr. McFarland's contribution to the introduction of western medicine into Siam, his friendly and influential relations with the royal families, his exploratory travel in Siam and his literary work in the production of medical text-books in Siamese and a monumental Thai-English dictionary. The book also abounds in descriptions of colorful Siamese and Chinese rites, festivals and customs.

32. McGoey, John H.
Nor Scrip Nor Shoes. Boston, Little, Brown, 1958. 280 p. $4.00 Autobiography of a young Roman Catholic priest, Canadian missionary for ten years in war-torn China, now serving in the Bahamas. A story of struggle against difficulties, danger and continuous ill health, told with unusual candor and humor in a delightful literary style.

33. Northcott, Cecil.
Forest Doctor; The Story of Albert Schweitzer. N.Y., Roy, 1958. 92 p. $1.50 A brief, popular biography, in the series "Stories of Faith and Fame," written by the well-known British editor. First published in England. Good reading for young people.

34. O'Brien, Brian.
She Had a Magic; the Story of Mary Slessor. London, Jonathan Cape, 1958. 255 p. 18s. The life of the extraordinary Scotch woman missionary to Nigeria, told in dramatic and moving style.

35. Scott, Michael.
A Time to Speak. Garden City, N.Y., Doubleday, 1958. 358 p. $4.50 The brave Anglican priest, who has become a spokesman before the court of world opinion for the rights of South Africa colored peoples, tells the story of his life and struggles. Dramatic and revealing.

36. Thompson, Phyllis.
Desert Pilgrim; the Story of Mildred Cable's Venture for God in Central Asia. London, China Inland Mission, 1957. 96 p. 4/6 A moving story of the second part of Mildred Cable's life, her years as itinerant evangelist in the deserts of Sinkiang, China's northwestern territory; well written.

37. Varley, D. H., and Matthew, H. M.
The Cape Journals of Archdeacon N. J. Merriman, 1848-1855. Cape Town, Van Riebeck Society, 1957. 227 p. 28/ Archdeacon Nathaniel J. Merriman was a missionary at Cape Town, South Africa for seven years. This pungent and unexpurgated journal gives a vivid first-hand impression of social life and church conditions in South Africa a century ago and constitutes valuable historical data.

38. Watson, Lila.
Grace McBride; Missionary Nurse. Nashville, Tenn., Convention Press, 1958. 131 p. $1.25 Biography of a missionary nurse of a Baptist hospital in China who died as a Red Cross nurse in Siberia during World War I.

39. Weatherspoon, J. B.
M.Theron Rankin: Apostle of Advance. Nashville, Broadman Press, 1958. 157 p. Biography of a great forward-looking leader in Southern Baptist missions, first in China and the Orient, then for eight years until his death in 1953 as Executive Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board.

See also: 200

B. NATIONAL CHRISTIANS

40. Sengupta, Padmini.
The Portrait of an Indian Woman. Calcutta, Y.M.C.A. Publishing House, 1956. 200 p. Rs. 3/- Biography of Mrs. Kamala Satthianadhan (1880-1950), a Christian educator and inspiring type of new womanhood in India, written with tender respect and devotion by her daughter.

41. Simon, Charlie May.
A Seed Shall Serve; the Story of Toyohiko Kagawa, Spiritual Leader of Modern Japan. N.Y., E. P. Dutton, 1958. 158 p. $3.00 A new and inspiring biography of Kagawa in conversational and popular style, that brings out his lifelong, sacrificial ministry to human suffering. The writer spent several months in Japan, interviewing Kagawa and his friends, and gathering material for this book.

C. GENERAL

42. Harrington, Janette T.
The Shadows They Cast. N.Y., Friendship Press, 1958. 161 p. $2.95 A series of profiles of dedicated Christians from the neighborhoods of North America who helped to shape the communities in which they live.

43. Howard, Cecil.
Mary Kingsley. London, Hutchinson, 1957. 231 p. 21/ Mary Kingsley (1862-1900), the brilliant niece of Charles Kingsley, explorer and naturalist, champion of the African and charming personality, is brought to life in this fine biography. She was a warm friend of many missionaries but often critical of their aim and methods.

44. Lepp, Ignace.
From Karl Marx to Jesus Christ. N.Y., Sheed and Ward, 1958. 212 p. $3.75 The spiritual journey of a young Frenchman from professional Communist activity, through a period of disillusion, into the Roman Catholic faith and priesthood. A true and illuminating story.

45. Smith, Mabel Waln.
Springtime in Shanghai. London, George G. Harrap, 1957. 215 p. 15s. Autobiography of an American Quaker woman, who married an English sea captain and lived in Shanghai for twelve years through wars, revolutions and internment. The author reveals a warm love of China and her people, but her writing is often over-imaginative and sensational.

46. Wedemeyer, Albert C.
Wedemeyer Reports. N.Y., Henry Holt, 1958. 497 p. $6.00 General Albert C. Wedemeyer, World War II strategist and U.S. commander in the China Theater, publishes his interesting and controversial memoirs.

III. THEORY AND PRINCIPLES OF MISSIONS; THEOLOGY OF MISSIONS

47. Boer, Harry R.
The World Missionary Situation Today. Grand Rapids, Mich., Wm. B. Eerdmans, 1958. 16 p. $0.30 Thoughtful lecture on new missionary policies and trends, by the principal of the Theological College of Northern Nigeria.

48. Freytag, Walter.
Weltmission Heute. Heft 7/8: Kirchen Im Neuen Asien. Stuttgart, Evang. Missionsverlag, 1958. 63 p. DM 2.40 The noted missionary scholar and statesman of Germany discusses the churches of new Asia in this revolutionary era and makes some far-reaching proposals on the relation of mission to church.

49. Neill, Stephen.
The Cross in the Church. London, Independent Press, 1957. 75 p. 4s. Four informal lectures on the Biblical basis of world missions, recorded as spoken. Some helpful new interpretations.

50. Oosthuizen, Gerhardus Cornelis.
Theological discussions and Confessional Developments in the Churches of Asia and Africa. Franeker, Netherlands, T. Wever, 1958. 326 p. A pioneer effort to study the developing theological thinking of the younger churches of Asia and Africa as it finds expression in their confessional and creedal statements. In the introduction the author tries to define the nature of the Church and its indigenization in the environments of non-Christian religions. Will repay careful reading.

51. Roux, Hébert.
Église et Mission. Paris, Société de Missions Évangéliques, 1956. 91 p. $1.20 (in U.S.A.) Historical, Biblical and practical basis of the unity of Church and Mission, and the implications for missionary policy of such unity.

52. Vicedom, Georg F.
Missio Dei; Einführung in eine Theologie der Mission. A thoughtful and stimulating discussion of the theology of the Christian world mission, rooted in rich biblical study and penetrating observations upon modern culture. The author is both a theologian and an anthropologist.

IV. MISSIONARY METHODS

A. EVANGELISM AND CHURCH WORK: COMMUNICATION OF THE GOSPEL

53. Taylor, John V.
The Growth of the Church in Buganda. London, SCM Press, 1958. 288 p. 25s. A book that blazes new trails, first of a new series of Studies in the Life and Growth of the Younger Churches undertaken by the IMC and WCC. Important data, cautiously and wisely interpreted, written with true literary art. Relevant for churches in all lands.

54. Wood, M. A. P.
Like A Mighty Army. London, Marshall, Morgan & Scott, 1955. 144 p. 8/6 Lectures on missionary evangelism, especially by the laity.

B. CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

55. Stowe, Everett M., ed.
Christian Education in the Present World Situation. N.Y., The World Council of Christian Education and Sunday School Association, 1958. Mimeographed 218 p. np. A source book used at the World Institute on Christian Education in Japan, July 1958. Covers a wide range of interesting subjects.

See also: 59.

C. CHRISTIAN LITERATURE AND LITERACY EDUCATION

D. AUDIO-VISUAL COMMUNICATIONS

56. Ewing, J. Franklin, S. J., ed.
The Role of Communications Arts in Mission Work: Proceedings of the Fordham University Conference of Mission Specialists. N.Y., Fordham University Press, 1957. 149 p. $2.00 The 4th meeting of this Roman Catholic Mission Conference discussed the use of music, dance, drama, newspapers and other literature, films, radio, television, and audio-visual aids in missionary work. The report volume contains papers by Catholic missiologists and a record of the discussions.

E. MEDICAL MISSIONS

See also: 181, 224.

F. RURAL AND AGRICULTURAL MISSIONS

57. Freeman, Charles, ed.
India Village Service; Retrospect and Prospect. Uttar Pradesh, India Village Service, 1958. 93 p. A frank and constructive self-evaluation of the pilot project begun by Dr. and Mrs. William H. Wiser in 1945. Relevant for Christian rural workers in all lands of Asia and Africa.

See also: 162.

G. GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF MISSIONARY ACTIVITIES

See also: 178.

H. ADMINISTRATION AND PROMOTION OF MISSIONS: TRAINING OF MISSIONARY PERSONNEL

I. OTHER METHODS AND PROBLEMS

58. Cressy, Earl H.
Strengthening the Urban Church: Developing More and Stronger Urban Churches. Manila, The United Church of Christ in the Philippines, 1957. 107 p. (Survey of Church Growth in the United Church of Christ in the Philippines and the Convention of Philippine Baptist Churches, Part Two) A significant survey, initiated by the United Church of Christ in the Philippines, and conducted by an experienced educational missionary. The second member of the Survey Team, Donald A. McGavran, has written a companion volume, Multiplying Churches in the Philippines. This report contains statistical data, impressionistic observations and some ambitious recommendations.

59. First Asian Conference on Industrial Evangelism. Manila, 1958. 268 p. June 3-12, 1958. Sponsored by the East Asia Christian Conference (WCC and IMC cooperating). Background reports from 11 countries; addresses; study group reports; mailing list. A very significant volume that breaks new ground.

60. Masses Urbaines et Missions: Rapports et Compte Rendu de la XXVIe Semaine de Missiologie Louvain 1956. Bruges, Desclée de Brouwer, 1957. 256 p. 150 Fr. (Museum Lessianum - Section Missiologique - No. 35) This Roman Catholic Seminar on Missiology, 26th in the Series, consists of valuable papers on the problems of urban missions in Africa and Asia

V. R E F E R E N C E

A. MISSIONS

B. YEARBOOKS AND DIRECTORIES

61. Association Index; a Source-list of Directories and Other Publications Listing Associations. Los Angeles, Metropolitan Research Company, 1958. 122 p. $7.00 Useful reference volume.

62. China Yearbook Editorial Board.
China Yearbook 1957-1958. Taipei, Taiwan, China Publishing Company, 1958. 768 p. $6.50 (in U.S.A.) The China Handbook now becomes the China Yearbook, with general information about China and especially Taiwan, chapters on the National Government and international affairs, a section about the Communist regime from the Nationalist point of view, chronology, Who's Who of Taiwan and overseas notables.

63. Landis, Benson Y., ed.
Yearbook of American Churches; Information on All Faiths in the U.S. Edition for 1959. N.Y., National Council of the Churches in the U.S.A., 1958. 334 p. $5.00 Twenty-sixth edition of a widely used and most valuable reference book.

See also: 15.

C. BIBLIOGRAPHIES AND GENERAL

64. Fage, J. D.
An Atlas of African History. London, Edward Arnold, 1958. 64 p. 30s. More than 60 black and white maps, drawn with accuracy and artistic skill, covering the whole range of known African history from Roman times to 1957. A unique book, indispensable for scholars and teachers in the field of African studies.

65. Humphreys, R. A.
Latin American History; a Guide to the Literature in English. London, Oxford University Press, 1958. 197 p. 25s. A guide to English literature on Latin America. More than 2000 entries are listed in this well-classified and useful bibliography.

66. Jones, Ruth.
West Africa. London, International African Institute, 1958. 116 p. £3. 15s. Five thousand items on Africa: general, ethnology, sociology, linguistics and related subjects, covering twenty countries or colonies of West Africa. Based on bibliographic card index of the International African Institute, London.

67. Kankokai, Seisho Tosho.
Japan Christian Literature Review. Japan, Japan Conservative Baptist Mission, 1958. $1.30 "A comprehensive subject list of several thousand Protestant and Catholic books (original works and translations), including over six hundred analytical book reviews." A useful index, prepared from the standpoint of very conservative theology. Toyohika Kagawa is considered a "liberal theologian."

68. Macro, Eric.
Bibliography of the Arabian Peninsula. Coral Gables, Fla., University of Miami Press, 1958. 80 p. $3.00 (photo offset) Comprehensive list of 2380 titles of books and articles, principally in English. Includes items on Christian missions and churches.

69. Porter, Dorothy B.
A Catalogue of the African Collection in the Moorland Foundation Howard University Library. Washington, D. C., Howard University Press, 1958. 398 p. $6.00 A list of nearly five thousand books and reports relating to Africa, received in the Howard University Library prior to 1957, and of several hundred periodicals and newspapers. A good index.

70. Tenri Central Library
Catalogue of the Rare Books of the Tenri Central Library. Tenri, Japan, Tenri Central Library, 1957. 152 p. (Tenri Central Library Series No. 22) Over one thousand books in western languages are listed.

See also: 58.

VI. A R E A S A N D C O U N T R I E S: (1) G E N E R A L: (2) M I S S I O N S, C H U R C H E S

A. NORTH AMERICA

71. Drucker, Philip.
The Native Brotherhoods: Modern Intertribal Organizations on the Northwest Coast. Washington, D. C., U.S. Government Printing Office, 1958. 194 p. $1.00 Descendants of the aboriginal races of North America in Alaska and British Columbia organized strong brotherhoods more than fifty years ago to improve their own status. History, organization and activities are described in this bulletin of the Bureau of Ethnology. There are several references to missions and missionaries.

72. Ewers, John C.
The Blackfeet; Raiders of the Northwestern Plains. Norman, Oklahoma, University of Oklahoma Press, 1958. 348 p. $5.75 History of the powerful Blackfeet, Indian tribe of buffalo days, written with scientific accuracy and literary skill, by an officer of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C. Several pages on Christian missions to the Blackfeet.

73. James, Harry C.
Red Man; White Man. San Antonio, Texas, The Naylor Company, 1958. 286 p. $5.00 A study of the tribal lore and customs of the Hopi Indians.

74. Ledyard, Gleason H.
And to the Eskimos. Chicago, Moody Press, 1958. 254 p. $3.75 The director of the non-denominational faith mission, Eskimo Gospel Crusade, narrates a brave and thrilling story of missionary work among the fishing people of the Arctic Coast.

75. Marter, Marjorie M., ed.
The Chinese in the United States and the Chinese Christian Church. N.Y., National Council of Churches, 1955. 73 p. $o.75 (mimeographed) Exceedingly opportune and serviceable research into the Chinese communities and Chinese Christian churches of America, by secretaries of the National Council of Churches with the aid of the Rev. Peter Shih of Boston.

76. Middleton, W. Vernon.
Methodism in Alaska and Hawaii: New Patterns for Living Together. N.Y., Board of Missions of Methodist Church, 1958. 144 p. A popular description of these two distant but important parts of the U.S.A. and of the pioneering work done by the Methodist Church. The book ends with a hopeful forward look.

77. Rand, Christopher.
The Puerto Ricans. N.Y., Oxford University Press, 1958. 178 p. $3.75 A comprehensive and sensitive investigation of the Puerto Rican population in New York City, its historical and social backgrounds, and the problems and difficulties it faces. Exceedingly informative and well-written.

See also: 63, 274.

B. THE CARIBBEAN ISLANDS AND THE GUIANAS

78. Caribbean Commission.
Education in the Caribbean. Trinidad, Caribbean Commission, 1956. 115 p. $1.00 Selected papers from the documentation and report of the Joint Conference in Education and Small-scale Farming, October 1954; helpful material on many educational problems.

79. Henriques, Fernando.
Jamaica: Land of Wood and Water. London, MacGibbon & Kee, 1957. 216 p. 1/5/- Jamaica yesterday and today, the old master-slave society, social and economic evolution, family life, witchcraft, religion and the cults, the struggle toward democracy, and the splendid beauty of this tropical island. Written by a Jamaican who knows well his own people.

80. Métraux, Alfred.
Haïti; la terre, les hommes et les dieux. Neuchâtel, France, La Baconnière, 1957. 109 p. Fr. 27 Extraordinarily fine photography of the land, people and arts of Negro Haiti, with reproductions of native paintings and a perceptive commentary in French.

81. Stead, William H.
Fomento - The Economic Development of Puerto Rico. Washington, D. C., National Planning Association, 1958. 151 p. $2.00 A comprehensive and objective report on the remarkable economic and industrial developments in Puerto Rico during the past decade. Research conducted by the National Planning Association with full cooperation from Puerto Rican government authorities.

C. LATIN AMERICA

82. Arguedas, Jose Maria, coll.
The Singing Mountaineers; Songs and Tales of the Quechua People. Edited and with an introduction by Ruth Stephan. Austin, Texas, University of Texas Press, 1957. 203 p. $3.75 Thirty songs, collected and translated into Spanish by the head of the Instituto de Estudios Etnologicos del Museo Nacional de Historia in Lima, rendered into English by an American novelist, the book includes also two essays and some other folk tales and songs.

83. Bailey, Helen Miller
Santa Cruz of the Etla Hills. Gainesville, Fla., University of Florida Press, 1958. 292 p. $6.00 Sociological study of a village in South Mexico which the author visited several times in twenty years. A warmly human description of Mexican hill people, their daily life and progress.

84. Bright, Roderick.
The Land and People of Mexico. (Lands and Peoples Series). N.Y., Macmillan, 1958. 90 p. $1.50 A readable guide book which reflects the colorful history, geography and society of old and new Mexico. Twenty-one photographs and a map.

85. Bushnell, G. H. S.
Peru. N.Y., Praeger, 1957. 207 p. $5.00 A splendid history of old Peru and the high Peruvian civilizations, based on recent archaeological discoveries. The period covered is 7000 B. C. to 1500 A. D. A finely written and illustrated book in the Ancient Peoples and Places Series.

86. Caso, Alfonso.
The Aztecs; People of the Sun. Norman, Okla., University of Oklahoma Press, 1958. 125 p. $7.95 Handsomely printed and expensive English translation of Caso's readable history of the Aztec people before the Spanish conquest; special attention given to their art, religion and magic. Illustrated in color. The author is director of the National Museum of Mexico.

87. Considine, John J.
New Horizons in Latin America. N.Y., Dodd, Mead, 1958. 379 p. $5.00 Sensitive and sympathetic description of Latin America and its various republics - people, culture, social life and religion - by the well-known Roman Catholic leader at Maryknoll Seminary. An outline portrait of Protestant missions covers forty pages.

88. Covarrubias, Miguel
Indian Art of Mexico and Central America. N.Y., Alfred A. Knopf, 1957. 360 p. $17.50 Magnificent work, illustrated with twelve pages in full color and 149 line drawings by the author, and an album of sixty-four pages of photographs, a sequel to The Eagle, the Jaguar, and the Serpent.

89. Flornoy, Bertrand.
The World of the Inca. Translated from the French by Winifred Bradford. N.Y., Vanguard Press, 1956. 212 p. $4.50 The story of the mysterious empire of the Sun by a French explorer which combines aspects of history with the excitement of adventure in this report on several expeditions.

90. Fluharty, Vernon Lee.
Dance of the Millions; Military Rule and the Social Revolution in Colombia, 1930-1956. Pittsburgh, University of Pittsburgh Press, 1957. 336 p. $6.00 Colombia's chequered history since 1930, - liberalism and reform followed by reaction, blood baths and dictatorship. The rise of Rajas; and an analysis of basic political and economic problems. The book, with its vigorous writing, ends on a hopeful note. Only brief references to Christianity.

91. Guppy, Nicholas.
Wai-Wai; Through the Forests North of the Amazon. N.Y., E. P. Dutton, 1958. 373 p. $5.95 Fascinating narrative of a botanical expedition to the little known borderland between British Guiana and Brazil, with description of strange tribes and over-zealous missionaries. Idealization of primitive Indian life.

92. Kennedy, John J.
Catholicism, Nationalism, and Democracy in Argentina. Notre Dame, Ind., University of Notre Dame Press, 1958. 219 p. $4.95 A search for the role of the Roman Catholic Church in the political and social thought and life of Argentina, from 1810 to the end of the Peron regime. Incisive discussion of the character of Argentine Catholicism and democracy, and of religious liberty.

93. May, Stacy; Plaza, Galo.
The United Fruit Company in Latin America. Washington, D. C., National Planning Association, 1958. 263 p. $4.50 (N.P.A. Series on United States Business Performance Abroad) A thorough, objective research into the history and business operations of the United Fruit Company in six countries of Central and South America, and an assessment of its strength and weaknesses in relation to the social life and economy of the area involved.

94. Rippy, J. Fred.
Latin America. Ann Arbor, The University of Michigan Press, 1958. 579 p. $10.00 (History of the Modern World) First-rate university textbook on the history and culture of Latin America and its various countries and peoples. Eight pages of suggested readings, detailed index.

95. Rycroft, W. Stanley.
Religion and Faith in Latin America. Philadelphia, Westminster Press, 1958. 208 p. $3.75 A perceptive study of Latin American culture and the role Protestantism has played in competition with various other ideological and religious forces; notable writing by a distinguished missionary leader.

See also: 21, 25, 26, 65.

D. EUROPE

96. Bach, Marcus.
God and the Soviets. N.Y., Thomas Y. Crowell, 1958. 214 p. $4.00 Vivid account of a journey through the U.S.S.R. in 1957 by a foremost American religious researcher; trenchant observations on the religious life which still prevails despite official opposition; report of many significant conversations.

97. Christian Democratic Union of Central Europe.
Freedom Prerequisite to Lasting Peace. N.Y., Christian Democratic Union of Central Europe, 1957. 166 p. The Union was organized in 1950 to rally exiled Christian Democrats from Eastern Europe in a common program. This book describes the earlier history of Christian Democratic Parties, their meaning and present mission.

98. Deane, Shirley.
Tomorrow is Mañana in an Andalusian Village. N.Y., Morrow, 1958. 198 p. $4.00 An enchanting travel book that captures the spirit of leisurely southern Spain and reveals a warm human sympathy for the Spanish people. Vivid description of religious customs, especially the annual fair.

99. Kovaks, Imre, ed.
Facts about Hungary. N.Y., Hungarian Committee, 1958. 280 p. Documentary reference book on the Hungarian Revolution and its historical background. written with regard for facts but also with strong feeling.

100. Pasternak, Boris.
Doctor Zhivago. N.Y., Pantheon, 1958. 559 p. $5.00 A tremendous novel of revolutionary Russia, humane and religious in spirit; best-seller in many languages. The author has become internationally famous because of the Nobel prize for literature which he could not accept.

101. Walsh, Warren Bartlett.
Russia and the Soviet Union. Ann Arbor, The University of Michigan Press, 1958. 640 p. $10.00 (History of the Modern World) Russia's vast and turbulent history, covering more than a thousand years, told with scholarly skill and literary art. Excellent list of suggested readings, annotations, index. Chapters on the Soviet Union especially well-done.

E. AFRICA (SOUTH OF THE SAHARA)

102. Balandier, Georges.
Afrique Ambiguë. Paris, Librairie Plon, 1957. 284 p. 1330 F. A wise young French ethnologist looks at the paradoxes of Africa civilization today and asks the question, "Whither?" One chapter deals with religious sects.

103. Carter, Gwendolen M.
The Politics of Inequality; South Africa Since 1948. N.Y., Frederick A. Praeger, 1958. 535 p. $7.50 History, analysis of political and legislative structure, educational system, the press and other cultural aspects are presented with scholarly care and insight into the problems of one of the complex nations today.

104. The Church in Changing Africa: Report of the All-Africa Church Conference. N.Y., International Missionary Council, 1958. 106 p. $1.50 Addresses, reports and discussions in a historical conference with immeasurable significance for African Christianity and the world-wide Church. Twenty-five countries and territories of Africa were represented in the gathering at Ibadan, Nigeria, January 10-19, 1958.

105. Coleman, James S.
Nigeria; Background to Nationalism. Berkeley, Calif., University of California Press, 1958. 510 p. $7.50 A definitive study of the vigorous nationalist movement in Nigeria, from the beginning of British rule to the present time, fully documented and clearly presented. The author, from the University of California, spent more than a year doing research in Nigeria.

106. Le Comité D'Action Antialcoolique en Côte d'Ivoire.
Actes et Travaux de la Premiere Conference Interafricaine Antialcoolique. Abidjan, Le Comité D'Action Antialcoolique en Côte d'Ivoire, 1957. 493 p. Complete proceedings,reports, documents and resolutions of the First All-Africa Conference Against Alcoholism in 1956. The delegates and members included many Christian leaders.

107. Congo et Ruanda-Urundi; Terre de Contrastes. Bruxelles, Belgium, Elsevier, 1957. 80 p. $2.25 The old and the new vividly pictured in this volume of well-chosen photographs and informative text. French edition of The Belgian Congo from Wilderness to Civilization.

108. Cowan, L. Gray.
Local Government in West Africa. N.Y., Columbia University Press, 1958. 292 p. $5.00 Adaptations of western political institutions to the slowly changing old tribal society and its 20th century needs, in British and French West Africa. An important background study.

109. Crawford, O. G. S., ed.
Ethiopian Itineraries, circa 1400-1524. Cambridge, Cambridge University Press, 1958. 232 p. 12/6 Italian text and translations of four itineraries recorded by Alessandro Zorzi in the 15th century, with detailed accounts of Ethiopian geography and society at that time. The author, a geographer and archaeologist, provides a valuable introduction. Published for the Hakluyt Society.

110. du Sautoy, Peter.
Community Devolopment in Ghana. London, Oxford University Press, 1958. 205 p. 15s. "A movement designed to promote better living for the whole country," and to encourage initiative and organization among the people, sponsored by the Ghana Government.

111. Elkan, W.
An African Labour Force. East African Studies No. 7. Kampala, Uganda, East African Institute of Social Research, 1956. 59 p. 8/6 Investigations of working conditions in Uganda factories of the East Africa Tobacco Company, by scientifically trained observers, with recommendations for more employer-worker consultations.

112. Forman, Lionel, and Sachs, E. S.
The South African Treason Trial. N.Y., Monthly Review Press, 1958. 216 p. $5.00 Important source of information on the trial of 156 South Africans charged with opposition to the Government's apartheid policy. The authors are two participants in the struggle.

113. Ghana Information Services.
Ghana Is Born. London, Newman Neame, 1958. 107 p. 18/ A handsome photographic record of the Ghana independence celebrations in the week of March 6, 1957.

114. Ghurye, G. S.
Race Relations in Negro Africa. Bombay, Asia Publishing House, 1952. 96 p. Rs.4-8-0 Analysis of relations between Africans, Europeans and Asians in various parts of sub-Sahara Africa, with critical conclusions. The author is an Indian sociologist.

115. Goldschmidt, Walter, ed.
The United States and Africa: The American Assembly, Columbia University, June 1958. N.Y., Columbia University Press, 1958. 252 p. $1.00 Masterly background papers by a group of specialists, dealing with African political systems and economics, racial situations and issues, culture and changing values, and American interests in Africa. Indispensable reference material for "Africanists."

116. Hailey, Lord.
An African Survey, Revised 1956. London, N.Y., Toronto, Oxford University Press, 1957. 1676 p. 5/5/- "A study of problems arising in Africa South of Sahara" brings up to date the 1938 edition to the end of 1955, a standard book of information for that area.

117. Hilliard, F. H.
A Short History of Education in British West Africa. London, Toronto, N.Y., Nelson, 1957. 186 p. 6/ A useful survey of the development of education in Sierra Leone, the Gambia, the Gold Coast and Nigeria, in which Christian missions have played a prominent part.

118. Kirk-Greene, A.H.M.
Adamawa, Past and Present. N.Y., Oxford University Press, 1958. 230 p. $5.60 History of the past 150 years in Adamawa, picturesque province of Northern Nigeria; also its geography, ethnology, and government administration, based on new researches. Many references to Christian missions and the expansion of Islam.

119. Lawson, McEwan.
African Portraits. London, Independent Press, 1957. 47 p. 5/ Twelve faces that are windows opening upon the tragic racial dilemma of South Africa.

120. Mackintosh, C. W.
Some Pioneer Missions of Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland. Livingstone, Northern Rhodesia, the Rhodes-Livingstone Museum, 1950. 42 p. (Paper) 2/6 Careful, interesting research.

121. Meek, C. K.
Land Tenure and Land Administration in Nigeria and the Cameroons. London, Her Majesty's Stationery Office, 1957. 420 p. £2. 15s. Encyclopedic research study into land policies and systems of Nigeria, with their recent modifications; agricultural and pastoral conditions; rights of tribes, villages, clans, etc. The survey is basis for economic improvement programs. Intensely interesting as well as of sociological value.

122. Meyerowitz, Eva L. R.
The Akan of Ghana: Their Ancient Beliefs. London, Faber and Faber, 1958. 164 p. £2/5/- History, traditions and religious beliefs of the Akan people who moved from North Africa to the region of Ghana in the 11th century; valuable research by a brilliant ethnologist.

123. Morris, James.
South African Winter. N.Y., Pantheon, 1958. 196 p. $3.75 A bold, unvarnished picture of the Union of South Africa, its "savage past and fear-stricken present," its tragic racial contrasts and tensions, and its ominous future. By a brillian young correspondent of the Manchester Guardian.

124. Murray, A. A.
The Blanket. N.Y., Vanguard Press, 1957. 192 p. $3.50 A poignant novel about a ritual or medicine murder in Africa and the complex clash between western and African ideals of justice. A strange and moving book.

125. Paton, David M., ed.
Church and Race in South Africa. London, SCM Press, 1958. 252 p. 8s. 6d. A small, significant anthology of papers on the racial question, born out of the bitter struggle in South Africa. The moving last chapter is entitled, "Thoughts and Prayers."

126. Sampson, Anthony.
The Treason Cage: The Opposition on Trial in South Africa. London, Heinemann, 1958. 242 p. 21/ Dramatic interpretation of the South African "Treason Trials," based upon a close study of the problems and personalities involved. The author assesses the growing opposition to the apartheid policy of the Government. Especially helpful are the vignettes of eight South African opposition leaders.

127. Schweitzer, Albert.
African Notebook. Bloomington, Indiana University Press, 1958. 144 p. $3.00 American edition of From My African Notebook, first published in London, 1938.

128. Thompson, Virginia, and Adloff, Richard.
French West Africa. Stanford, California, Stanford University Press, 1958. 626 p. $8.75 First complete study in the English language of the whole territory of French West Africa, now in the throes of tremendous change: the political scene, the economy, social and cultural developments, Islam and Christian missions. An indispensable reference work.

129. Trowell, Margaret.
African Tapestry. London, Faber and Faber, 1957. 164 p. 21/- An attractive book by the wife of a British colonial physician and mother of several children, who is also naturalist, artist and writer, about her rich and meaningful life in Uganda and her hopes for the African people.

130. Vally-Samat, Renée.
Contes et Légendes de Madagascar. Paris, Gernand Nathan, 1956. 252 p. $2.15 (in U.S.A.) Collection of more than forty folk tales and legends of Madagascar illustrated.

131. van der Post, Laurens.
The Lost World of the Kalahari. N.Y., William Morrow, 1958. 279 p. $4.00 Discovery of the last survivors of the vanished Bushmen of Southwest Africa by the van der Post party in 1957; an exciting expedition that had spiritual significance, described with unique literary skill.

132. Whittall, Errol.
Dimbill: The Story of a Kenya Farm. London, Arthur Baker, 1956. 158 p. 18/ A British overseas farmer, with a true love for land and for letters too, describes his experiences in Kenya and philosophizes about the future of African agriculture.

133. Wilson, Monica.
The Peoples of the Nysasa-Tanganyika Corridor. Cape Town, University of Cape Town, 1958. 75 p. (Communications from the School of African Studies) Geographical, ethnological and linguistic study of the various tribes in "the main corridor between East and Central Africa." Mimeographed.

134. Wise, Colin G.
A History of Education in British West Africa. London, Longmans Green, 1956. 134 p. 6/6 Concise survey of educational development to 1950, with attention to both mission and government schools at all levels; bibliography.

See also: 48, 13, 37, 43, 64, 66, 69.

F. NEAR EAST, MIDDLE EAST AND NORTH AFRICA

135. American Friends Service Committee.
A Village Development Project in Jordan. Philadelphia, Pa., American Friends Service Committee, 1958. 214 p. A careful, detailed report of the three-year project in five villages of east Jordan, initiated by the American Friends Service Committee in 1953. American and Arab technicians worked together, encouraging villages to solve their problems through individual and cooperative effort. The project was supported by grants from the Ford Foundation. A final evaluation was made in 1957.

136. Department of Defense, U. S. Government.
A Pocket Guide to North Africa. Washington, D. C., United States Government Publications, 1958. 136 p. $0.45 A well-composed, brief guide to Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, and Libya; sympathetic introduction to the Moslem way of life, for use of American service men overseas.

137. Douglas, William O.
West of the Indus. Garden City, N.Y., Doubleday, 1958. 513 p. $5.00 Eventful journey of 7000 miles by car through West Afghanistan, Iran, Iraq and Turkey, by the intrepid traveler and observant writer Justice William O. Douglas of the U.S. Supreme Court.

138. Harris, George L.
Jordan: Its People, Its Society, Its Culture. New Haven, Conn., HRAF Press, 1958. 246 p. $5.50 Government, foreign relations, economy, social life and culture of this new and poor Muslim nation, caught in the turmoil of Mideastern power politics. A well-organized survey.

139. Join-Lambert, Michel.
Jerusalem. New York, G. P. Putnam's, 1958. 223 p. $5.95 Rediscovery of ancient Jerusalem, from pre-historic days to the 13th century, through modern archaeological excavations and studies. Excellent text and over one hundred well-selected illustrations and maps.

140. Lacouture, Jean and Simonne.
Egypt in Transition. London, Methuen, 1958. 532 p. 35s. The evolution of Egypt from the beginning of the 19th century to the end of 1957, with greater emphasis upon the past decade. A wealth of material, written in pungent style. Very helpful for understanding of Nasser's Egypt.

141. Lacquer, Walter S., ed.
The Middle East in Transition; Studies in Contemporary History. N.Y., Praeger, 1958. 512 p. $8.75 Thirty-four authorities in America, Europe and the Middle East present valuable essays analyzing recent social and political changes and the effects of Communist influence in this "most sensitive trouble spot of the world."

142. Longrigg, Stephen Hemsley.
Syria and Lebanon under French Mandate. London, Oxford University Press, 1958. 404 p. 42s. Political, economic and social history of Syria and Lebanon from before World War I to 1946; the most comprehensive story yet published. Frequent references to the religious communities and Christian missions.

143. Longy, M. C., trans.
Afrique du Nord, Maroc, Algérie, Tunisie, Libye. Introduction et Apercu Historique par Rolf Italiaander. Traduit de l'allemand par M. C. Longy. Bruxelles, Belgique, Elsevier, 1956. 12 p. and 97 plates. $6.27 Beautiful book of photographs with short historical introductions to the countries of North Africa.

144. Luther, Ernest W.
Ethiopia Today. Stanford, Calif., Stanford University Press (London, Oxford University Press), 1958. 158 p. $4.00 First hand information about a country with monarchical tradition and western parliamentary concepts in its government, a state with a modern economy in which one of the oldest Christian churches is the State religion.

146. Philby, H. St. John.
The Land of Midian. London, Ernest Benn, 1957. 286 p. The Bible land of Midian, yesterday and today, interestingly portrayed by a long-time resident of and traveler in Arabia.

147. Rubin, Jacob A., and Barkai, Meyer.
Pictorial History of Israel. N.Y., London, Thomas Yoseloff, 1958. 320 p. $7.50 Well-balanced presentation in pictures and text of the history and present-day life of Israel, commemorating the tenth anniversary of its independence as a state.

148. Sadat, Anwar El.
Revolt on the Nile. London, Allan Wingate, 1957. 131 p. 12/6 Very interesting and intimate account of Egypt's road to independence by one of President Nasser's most important advisors and close associates.

149. Sayegh, Fayez A.
Arab Unity: Hope and Fulfillment. N.Y., Devin-Adair, 1958. 272 p. $4.00 The author is one of the ablest and most articulate exponents of the Arab point of view, a Christian Arab, official for many years in the United Nations. He believes that Arab unity is a primary fact in the Middle East and North Africa and that it will inspire "dynamic nationalism" and a unified political system.

150. Tillion, Germaine.
Algeria: The Realities. Translated from the French by Ronald Matthews. N.Y., Knopf, 1958. 115 p. $3.00 A sober, realistic picture of Algiers and Algerians "haunted by the past, fevered with dreams of the future," by a gifted French woman writer who lived many years among these North African people.

151. Williams, William Appleman.
America and the Middle East. N.Y., Rinehart, 1958. 58 p. $0.75 A critical commentary on American relations with the Middle East - "Open Door Imperialism or Enlightened Leadership?" The first section is entitled "Merchants, Missionaries and the Open Door."

152. Yale, William.
The Near East. Ann Arbor, The University of Michigan Press, 1958. 481 p. $8.75 (History of the Modern World) A masterly history of the Near East from the standpoint of that geographical area and its varied peoples, beginning with the advent of Islam and the Arab and ending with the contradictions and tensions of the present period. Well-selected material and lucid style.

See also: 35, 68, 232.

G. CENTRAL ASIA

153. Winnington, Alan.
Tibet; Record of a Journey. N.Y., International Publishers, 1957. 235 p. $4.00 The Dalai Lama instructed the author, "Tell the truth about Tibet." He has attempted to do so. The book is full of interest about the influence of the Communist conquest on social and religious life of this unique country. New roads and ways of travel made possible more extended visitation than had been possible before. A timely book.

See also: 36.

H. SOUTHERN ASIA

154. Andrus, J. Russell, and Mohammed, Azizali F.
The Economy of Pakistan. Stanford, Calif., Stanford University Press, 1958. 517 p. $8.50 A broad, analytical study of the main aspects of Pakistan economy and its changes since independence, by an American economic officer, with cooperation from government ministries and institutions.

155. Birdwood, Lord.
Two Nations and Kashmir. London, Robert Hale, 1956. 237 p. 21/- A revealing history of Kashmir and of the India-Pakistan dispute over that mountainous country, that sheds light on the complex negotiations and on the Kashmiris themselves.

156. Boer, Hans A. de.
The Bridge Is Love. Grand Rapids, Mich., Wm. B. Eerdmans., 1958. 255 p. $3.95 English translation of Unterwage Notiert: Bericht eine Weltreise, a best seller in Germany. The author, a German Christian business man, conscientious objector during World War II, describes a three-year trip around the world. His sensitive observations of societies and persons, his interviews with Christians even in Red China and among the Mau Maus, his indignation at racial discriminations, combine to make this an extraordinary volume.

157. Boer, Hans A. de.
Unterwage Notiert: Bericht eine Weltreise. Kassel, Germany, J. C. Oncken Verlag, 1956. 327 p. German text: English translation published under title, The Bridge Is Love.

158. Brecher, Michael.
India's Foreign Policy: An Interpretation. N.Y., Institute of Pacific Relations, 1957. 31 p. $0.60 Analysis of the dynamics of Indian foreign policy, as formulated by Prime Minister Nehru and supported by the bulk of Indian public opinion.

159. Chookolingo, Frank C.
India: The Inside Story; Past, Present, and Future. N.Y., Exposition Press, 1958. 195 p. $4.00 An Indian professor, who was born in Trinidad and has spent much of his life abroad, makes a long pilgrimage back to his mother country. In rediscovering and re-interpreting India he helps to answer many American questions about that land of color and paradox.

160. Choudhury, G. W., and Hasan, Parvez.
Pakistan's External Relations. Karachi, Pakistan Institute of International Affairs, 1958. 49 p. Useful survey of Pakistan's foreign relations with various foreign countries since independence in 1947.

161. Dammers, A. H.
Great Venture: The Church of South India in Action. London, Highway Press, 1958. 62 p. 2/6 A personal account, grateful and appreciative, of four years service in the United Church of South India, by an Anglican missionary.

162. Dube, S. C.
India's Changing Villages: Human Factors in Community Development. Ithaca, N.Y., Cornell University Press, 1958. 230 p. $3.50 Record of a three-year rural community development project in Uttar Pradesh Province and evaluation of problems and results. The research was sponsored by the Indian Program of Cornell University and was carried out largely by Indian workers.

163. Feldman, Herbert.
The Land and People of Pakistan. (The Land and People Series) N.Y., Macmillan, 1958. 90 p. $1.50 A useful introduction to the history of independent Pakistan and the life and needs of its people, by a long-time resident of the country.

164. Furnivall, J. S.
The Governance of Modern Burma. N.Y., Institute of Pacific Relations, 1958. 132 p. $2.50 An account of the political development of Burma since 1948, with an analysis of its new and complex government machinery. The story is brought down to the recent crisis and political split, when the army assumed control.

165. Han, Suyin.
The Mountain Is Young. N.Y., G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1958. 511 p. $4.95 The internationally famous Eurasian authoress chooses Himalayan Nepal as the setting for a new, long novel. Magnificent nature descriptions, colorful portraits of Nepalese life and character, a well-wrought plot - marred by an unnecessary number of sensuous scenes.

166. Kihara, H., ed.
Peoples of Nepal Himalaya; Scientific Results of the Japanese Expeditions to the Nepal Himalaya, 1952-1953. V. 3 Kyoto, Japan, Kyoto University, 1957. 425 + 38 p. $10.00 Very detailed and specialized report in cultural anthropology and ethnology of a complex culture of Hindu, Buddhist and Lamaist background.

167. Lewis, Oscar.
Village Life in Northern India. Urbana, University of Illinois Press, 1958. 364 p. $7.50 Skillful, first-hand field research into the economic organization and social life of a peasant village near Delhi, India, by the professor of anthropology at University of Illinois, who is also consultant for the Ford Foundation in India. Especially valuable for its insights into caste and the jajmani system.

168. Nag, Kalidas.
Discovery of Asia. Calcutta, Institute of Asian African Relations, 1957. 789 p. $15.00 A stupendous effort by an eminent Indian scholar to interpret the history, interrelationships and undeveloped possibilities of Asian cultures.

169. Rea, Ronald.
The Church of South India and the Church. Middlesex, England, Confraternity of Unity, 1956. 65 p. 5/ Writing from a broad Catholic point of view the author offers a profoundly theological, critical and yet constructive essay on the significance of the new Church of South India.

170. Rosen, George.
Industrial Change in India; Industrial Growth, Capital Requirements, and Technological Change, 1937-1955. Glencoe, Ill., Free Press, 1958. 243 p. $5.00 "Indian industry in the last five years has demonstrated a vigor and vitality worthy of industry in the most developed lands." A scientific survey, with many statistical tables.

171. Trager, Frank N.
Building a Welfare State in Burma, 1948-1956. N.Y., Institute of Pacific Relations, 1957. 119 p. $4.00 The author believes that Burma, in spite of innumerable obstacles without and mistakes within, is making slow, steady progress toward the goal of a balanced economy and welfare state for all the people.

172. Wheeler, Sir Mortimer.
The Cambridge History of India: Supplementary Volume, The Indus Civilization. Cambridge, Cambridge University Press, 1953. 98 p. £1/2/6 "Account of a highly evolved urban discipline and economy, spread over a larger area than any of the known pre-classical civilizations, from about 2500 to 1500 B.C." Finely illustrated.

173. White, Emmons E.
Appreciating India's Music. Madras, The Christian Literature Society, 1957. 101 p. Rs. 1.50 (The Christian Students' Library No. 14) Introduction to the music of India (chiefly South India), with suggestions for its use in Christian worship and evangelism, by a sympathetic western missionary.

174. White, Robin.
House of Many Rooms. N.Y., Harper, 1958. 214 p. $3.50 A novel about an American missionary family in India and the humorous and tragic experiences of the four children in their reaction to Indian culture and customs. The author was born and reared in India, now lives in California.

See also: 5, 40, 233, 235, 242, 245, 255.

I. SOUTH EAST ASIA

175. Belshaw, Cyril S.
The Great Village. London, Routledge and Kegan Paul, 1957. 302 p. 1/10/0 Sociological study of Hanuabada, suburb of Port Moresby, Australian territory of Papua; an interesting chapter on sorcery, critical comments on missionary attitudes to native culture; "the authority and good will of the London Missionary Society is being seriously questioned."

176. Benda, Harry J.
The Crescent and the Rising Sun. The Hague, W. van Hoeve, 1958. 320 p. $4.36 (At Institute of Pacific Relations, N.Y.) A scholarly and fascinating political history of Indonesia with special attention to the Japanese interregnum and its effect upon the Muslim community. Voluminous notes, bibliography in several languages, excellent index.

177. Berreman, Gerald D.
The Philippines: a survey of current social, economic and political conditions. Ithaca, N.Y., Cornell University, 1956. 52 p. $1.00 Data Paper Number 19 of the Cornell University South East Asia Program. Brief, valuable compendium of important facts, with good bibliography.

178. Carpenter, Kathleen.
Come In. London, Highway Press, 1957. 96 p. 3/6 A missionary of the Church Missionary Society describes the growth of the Church in the new villages of Malaya, and methods used in teaching illiterate communities.

179. Crawley, J. Winston.
Into A New World. Nashville, Tenn., Convention Press, 1958. 181 p. $0.85 (Paper cover) Study book for adults describing the new Southern Baptist mission work in the Philippines, Indonesia, Malaya and Thailand. A strongly denominational, interesting report, by the Southern Baptist Foreign Missions Secretary for the Orient.

180. Cunningham, Clark E.
The Postwar Migration of the Toba-Bataks to East Sumatra. New Haven, Conn., Yale University Southeast Asia Studies, 1958. 189 p. $3.50 Since 1950 a dramatic migration has taken place from around Lake Toba to East Sumatra. One half of the Batak people are Christians (of the HRBP, Batak Protestant Church) who in moving eastward have established many new churches. Significant sociological research.

181. Dooley, Thomas A., M.D.
The Edge of Tomorrow. N.Y., Farrar, Straus and Cudahy, 1958. 208 p. $3.75 A dedicated young American Christian doctor and his five friends start a jungle hospital in little known and danger-filled Laos; a moving story told with deep sincerity and humility.

182. Feith, Herbert.
The Wilopo Cabinet, 1952-1953; a Turning Point in Post-Revolutionary Indonesia. N.Y., The Institute of Pacific Relations, 1958. 212 p. $3.50 New data on an important period in modern Indonesian history and its shaping of subsequent events. Skillful research and clear judgments.

183. Fifield, Russell H.
The Diplomacy of Southeast Asia, 1945-1958. N.Y., Harper, 1958. 584 p. $7.50 Dr. Fifield, university professor, former diplomat, and extensive traveler, presents a scholarly, all-embracing study of foreign policies and international relations in a critical region of today's world. Valuable information and interpretation together with a comprehensive bibliography combine to make this a very important book.

184. Geddes, W. R.
Nine Dayak Nights. Melbourne, Oxford University Press, 1957. 144 p. A two-year anthropological study of a Land Dayak village in Sarawak, recorded with scientific accuracy and sympathetic insight, and in a felicitous literary style.

185. Goodfriend, Arthur.
Rice Roots. N.Y., Simon & Schuster, 1958. 209 p. $3.95 Business man, government official, noted author, and "plain American," Goodfriend describes his year in Indonesia, the life of the people at the "rice roots," and their attitudes toward the United States. A book of warm understanding and sympathies, critical of American errors yet constructive in its proposals.

186. Halpern, Joel Martin.
Aspects of Village Life and Cultural Change in Laos. N.Y., Council on Economic and Cultural Affairs, 1958. 143 p. A field representative of the American aid program contributes a remarkably fine anthropological and economic study of villages and village people in little-known Laos. Descriptive chapters, statistical data and tables, photographs.

187. Herz, Martin E.
A Short History of Cambodia: From the Days of Angkor to the Present. N.Y., Praeger, 1958. 141 p. $3.00 The rise and fall of Angkor's magnificent old civilization, the period of French protectorate, the struggle for independence, and the complex international situation today, form the subject of this important little book, said to be the first connected written history of Cambodia. The author is an American diplomatic officer.

188. Mason, Frederic.
The Schools of Malaya. Singapore, Donald Moore, 1957. 39 p. $1.00 A British educator in Malaya describes the complex educational system in Malaya a multi-lingual and multi-religious society.

189. Moore, Joanna.
The Land and the People of Malaya and Singapore. N.Y., MacMillan, 1958. 88 p. $1.50 (The Land and Peoples Series) An accurate, sympathetic, concise and timely account of Malaya and Singapore, written after the establishment of the new Federated State of Malaya on August 31st, 1957.

190. Nichols, Buford L.
Echoes from Indonesia. Nashville, Tenn., Convention Press, 1958. 142 p. $0.85 Description of the Indonesian land and people and story of the mission work of the Southern Baptists in Djakarta, Bandung, Surabaya, Semarang and Kederi.

191. Schmid, Peter.
In the Shadow of the Dragon. (Trans. from the German by Mervyn Savill) London, Weidenfeld and Nicolson, 1956. 288 p. 25/- Peter Schmid is an observant and zestful traveller who carries his readers with him along the highways and by-ways of Indo-China, Burma, Thailand, Malaya and Indonesia; a light, enjoyable series of sketches about places, politics and peoples.

192. Tung, Tran Van.
Viet-Nam; les hommes d'au-dela du sud. Neuchâtel, France, La Baconnière, 1957. 147 p. Fr. 19.50 Vivid description of the land, people and social trends of Viet Nam, with 61 photographs by the author.

193. van der Kroef, J. M.
Indonesia in the Modern World. Vol. I. Bandung, Indonesia, Masa Baru, 1954. 308 p. 36s. 6d. A keen, analytical study of Indonesian history, politics, changing society and culture, by a knowledgeable Dutch scholar. Well-documented, unfortunately no index.

194. Vella, Walter F.
Siam Under Rama III. Monographs of the Association for Asian Studies No.IV. Locust Valley, N.Y., J. J. Augustine, 1957. 180 p. $5.00 Erudite research into the reign of old Siam's last autocratic king, throwing light on many phases of modern Siamese history. Exhaustive bibliography in Thai and western languages. Several references to western Christian missions.

See also: 3, 31.

J. EAST ASIA

195. Beal, Edwin George, Jr.
The Origin of Likin. Cambridge, Mass., Harvard University Press, 1958. 201 p. $3.00 A doctoral dissertation dealing with the first period of the likin tax of China from the year of its introduction at the beginning of the Taiping Rebellion to the rocovery of Nanking by the Manchu Government.

196. Bull, Earl Rankin.
Okinawa or Ryukyu; The Floating Dragon. Newark, Ohio, The author, 1958. 243 p. $3.50 This paperbound, "off-set" published volume contains a comprehensive study of the culture, art, religions and history of Okinawa, central most island of the Ryukyu Islands. Its relation to America is well set forth in the statement by the author, "It is, therefore, our task and pleasure to show the character and culture of the temporary caretakers of the graves of 12,281 of our Allied forces." To many the book will be of interest as a description of the locale of the successful play and motion picture Teahouse of the August Moon.

197. Clyde, Paul H.
The Far East. Englewood Cliffs, N.J., Prentice-Hall, 3rd ed., 1958. 803 p. $7.95 Revised again after the first two editions of 1948 and 1952, this broad survey history of East Asia, with interwoven stories of China, Japan, Korea and the Philippines under the impact of Europe and America, continues to be a standard book for study and reference. Criticism may be expected of certain emphases and points of view.

198. Fairbank, John King.
The United States and China. Cambridge, Mass., Harvard University Press, 1958. 365 p. $5.50 Revised edition of an earlier book that deals in a brilliant way with recent developments in China, and secondarily with Chinese-American relations.

199. Gigon, Fernand,
Chine Cette Éternité. Neuchâtel, France, La Baconnière, 1957. 149 p. Fr. 19.50 Communist China, changing and unchanging, seen through revealing essays and photographs by a French scholar and traveler.

200. Glover, A. E.
A Thousand Miles of Miracle in China. (Abridged by L. T. Lyall.) London, Lutterworth, 1957. 192 p. 7/6 A classic of missionary literature, the story of the escape of the Glover family in the China Boxer Uprising of 1900, the 22nd edition, abridged with a foreword by J. C. Pollock.

201. Goodrich, L. Carrington;Fenn, Henry C.
A Syllabus of the History of Chinese Civilization and Culture. N.Y., The China Society of America, 1958. 59 p. $1.50 A helpful outline for the study of Chinese civilization from ancient times to the present, with references to the best books on each period. First published in 1929, this is the 6th edition revised.

202. Huang, Sung-K'uang.
Lu Hsün and the New Culture Movement of Modern China. Amsterdam, Djambatan, 1957. 158 p. Fl. 13 A very useful introduction to the life and thought of the famous left-wing writer of China (1881-1936), idolized by the Communists today. Miss Huang relates Lu Hsün to the historical and cultural background of his time and analyzes his far-reaching influence. Well-written, good notes and bibliographies.

203. Jones, F. C.
Hokkaido. London, Oxford University Press, 1958. 146 p. 21s. History, natural resources, and development possibilities of Japan's northern island where five million people now live.

204. Kim, Hyontay.
Folklore and Customs of Korea. Seoul, Korea, Korea Information Service, 1957. 132 p. $2.50 For visitors to Korea.

205. Kirby, E. Stuart.
Contemporary China, Vol. II. Hong Kong, Hong Kong University Press, 1958. 352 p. $4.80 Valuable collection of documents and essays relating to Communist China, Taiwan and Hongkong (1955-1957), in both Chinese language and English translation. Chronology, selected bibliography and good indexes. Very few references to religion.

206. Leng, Shao Chuan.
Japan and Communist China. Kyoto, Doshisha University Press, 1958. 166 p. $4.00 "Comprehensive coverage of a subject not duplicated elsewhere," says Dr. K. S. Latourette in his Foreword to the book. Based upon primary sources from 1949 to the present time. The author is professor at University of California.

207. Levenson, Joseph R.
Confucian China and its Modern Fate. Berkeley, Calif., University of California Press, 1958. 223 p. $5.00 Continuity and change in Chinese Confucian civilization; remains of the old culture in the new revolutionary society; brilliant historical analysis by a young scholar at the University of California.

208. Natori, J.
Historical Stories of Christianity in Japan. Japan, Hokuseido Press, 1957. 222 p. $1.50 (in U.S.) During World War II a Japanese Christian professor wrote these historical sketches about Christianity in Japan from ancient to modern times.

209. Peffer, Nathaniel.
The Far East. Ann Arbor, The University of Michigan Press, 1958. 489 p. $7.50 (History of the Modern World) A recognized expert in Far Eastern affairs gives a clear and comprehensive historical survey of the 19th and 20th centuries, with emphasis on western advance in this great area. The chapter on Missions (chapter XI) is highly critical.

210. Rewi Alley. (Alley, Rewi)
The People Sing. Peking, China, the Author, 1958. 446 p. HK$6.40 Rewi Alley, New Zealand engineer who lives and works in Communist China, gives us a third volume of translations - over two hundred poems and folks songs from early Chinese history to the present. The translations are paraphrases and in blank verse.

211. Schmid, Peter.
The New Face of China. London, George G. Harrap, 1958. 167 p. 18s. Unbiased journal of a visit to China in 1955, by a well-known Swiss traveler and photographer; sensitive, humorous, delightful reading. The conclusion, "There is a providence that stops the trees from growing into the sky."

212. van der Kroef, J. M.
Indonesia in the Modern World. Vol. II. Bandung, Indonesia, Masa Baru, 1956. 386 p. 36s. 6d. Essays covering a variety of disciplines, "focused on the contemporary scene in Indonesia in terms of its historical and cultural antecedents." Much valuable sociological data.

213. World Fellowship Committee of the Y. W. C. A. of Tokyo, Japan.
Japanese Etiquette: An Introduction. Rutland, Vt., Tuttle, 3rd printing, 1958. 157 p. $2.50 Interesting chapters on Japanese customs and courtesies dress, weddings and funerals, flower arrangements, tea ceremony, holidays and annual events.

See also: 16, 18, 41, 62, 67, 70, 231, 251, 254, 256, 257, 258, 266, 267.

K. PACIFIC ISLANDS

214. Beaglehole, Ernest.
Social Change in the South Pacific. London, Allen & Unwin, 1957. 268 p. 28/ Based upon exhaustive research into archives of the London Missionary Society and recent expeditions, this monograph makes a vivid and significant comparison between society on Rarotonga and Aitutaki of the Cook Islands a century ago and conditions today. Of great interest to missionaries as well as to anthropologists and sociologists.

215. Held, G. J.
The Papuas of Waropen. (Koninklijk Instituut voor Taal-, Land- en Volkenkunde. Translation Series, V.2) The Hague, The Netherlands, Martinus Nijhoff, 1957. 384 p. $6.34 Monograph based on long and diligent fieldwork, undertaken under the instructions of the Netherlands Bible Society, presents ethnographical data on all the different phases of Papuan life and customs, well illustrated.

216. Heyerdahl, Thor.
Aku-Aku. Chicago, Ill., Rand McNally, 1958. 384 p. $6.95 Exciting narrative of further archaeological studies and explorations on lonely Easter Island in the southern Pacific, confirming the author's theories of first settlement by Peruvian Indians a thousand years before Columbus. Many color photographs.

217. Kerr, George H.
Okinawa; The History of an Island People. Rutland, Vt., Tuttle, 1958. 542 p. $6.75 Reliable history of the strategically located Ryuku Archipelago and its main island of Okinawa, from the 14th century to the beginning of American control in 1945; careful scholarship and clear style. The author is a Far Eastern specialist.

218. Leenhardt, Raymond H.
Au Vent de la Grand Terre. Paris, Encyclopedie D'Outre-Mer, 1957. 201 p. $2.95 (in U.S.) Interesting history of the Loyalty Islands east of New Caledonia (French possessions), from 1849-1895, with much attention to Protestant and Roman Catholic missions and the struggle between them. The author is a son of missionaries, minister, and editor of Le Monde non Chretien.

219. Mellen, Kathleen Dickenson.
An Island Kingdom Passes; Hawaii Becomes American. N.Y., Hastings House, 1958. 383 p. $5.50 An account of the events which culminated in the downfall of the monarchy and annexation of the islands by the U.S., including an assessment of the conflict with the missionaries in their struggle against Hawaiian cultural patterns.

220. Mellen, Kathleen Dickenson.
The Gods Depart; a Saga of the Hawaiian Kingdom. N.Y., Hastings house, 1956. 300 p. $5.00 This continuation of a three-volume work recounts the losing battle of the kings following Kaahumanu against foreign corruption and the disintegration of their island kingdom during the years 1832-73.

221. van der Kroef, Justus M.
The West Guinea Dispute. N.Y., Institute of Pacific Relations, 1958. 43 p. $1.50 A brief survey of the principal issues involved in the clash between the Netherlands and Indonesia regarding the status of West New Guinea.

222. Warner, W. Lloyd.
A Black Civilization; a Social Study of an Australian Tribe. Revised ed. N.Y., Harper, 1958. 618 p. $6.50 Penetrating analysis of the social system and many other aspects of an aboriginal tribe, including chapters on totemism, magic and religion, with charts, maps and some photographs.

See also: 20, 29, 62, 287.

L. AUSTRALIA AND NEW ZEALAND

M. GENERAL

223. Charlesworth, James C.
Asia and Future World Leadership. Philadelphia, Pa., The Annals, 1958. 218 p. $2.50 Seventeen essays by American and Asian scholars, worthy of careful reading; good reviews of seventy recent books.

224. Daniel, F.
Elementary Health Science for Tropical Regions. London, Oxford University Press, 1955. 160 p. 3/6 An instructive manual in simple style, useful to health workers and missionaries in tropical climates.

225. DeChant, Alliene S.
I Came This Way. Philadelphia, Pa., The Christian Education Press, 1958. 152 p. $2.00 A light and readable story of travels to many countries, and of visits to mission work and missionaries, by a woman editor from Pennsylvania.

226. Gypkens, Franz.
Es Fiel Mir Auf; Kurzbericht einer Weltreise. Frakfurt, Varlag der Weissen Vater, 1957. 120 p. DM 5 Report on a world tour, by a German Christian scholar who is interested in the life of peoples and their common spiritual ties beneath all apparent differences.

227. Mikes, George.
East is East. N.Y., British Book Center, 1958. 190 p. $2.75 Entertaining travel book about East and South Asian countries and Turkey, with many humorous observations.

228. Thoma, Hedwig, ed.
Frauen in Fernen Ländern. Stuttgart, Germany, Evang. Missionsverlag G.M.B.H., 1958. 231 p. DM 10.80 A remarkably fine collection of 34 essays about Christian womanhood in the "far countries" of Asia and Africa. Should be translated into English.

229. Toynbee, Arnold J.
East and West. N.Y., Oxford University Press, 1958. 243 p. $4.50 The kind of travelogue we would expect from the eminent historian and scholar of religions and cultures. Dr. Toynbee describes highlights of his seventeen month journey around the world in 73 fascinating chapters, marked by profound observations and compassionate insights.

VII. CHRISTIANITY AND NON-CHRISTIAN RELIGIONS; OTHER IDEOLOGIES

A. RELIGIONS OF PRIMITIVE PEOPLES

See also: 222.

B. THE GREAT NON-CHRISTIAN RELIGIONS

230. Appleton, George.
The Christian Approach to the Buddhist. London, Edinburgh House Press, 1958. 63 p. 2s. 6d. Third book in The Christian Approach Series. A simple, objective, sympathetic account of Buddhism and interpretation of Christianity' relevance to it.

231. Chao, Pu-chu.
Buddhism in China. Peking, China, The Chinese Buddhist Association, 1957. 55 p. $0.85 A brief survey of Buddhist history in China and of its present condition under the Communist regime; by a leading Buddhist layman who has been active in social service.

232. Conze, Edward, tr.
Buddhist Wisdom Books. London, Allen & Unwin, 1958. 110 p. 13s.6d. A new translation, with illuminating commentary, of the most famous two Buddhist sutras - Diamond Sutra and Heart Sutra - by an eminent scholar of religions.

233. Dasgupta, Shashi Bhusan.
Aspects of Indian Religious Thought. Calcutta, India, A. Mukherjee, 1957. 247 p. Rs. 5.00 An esoteric exposition of various religious concepts in India - sacrifice, the role of mantra (meditation), mother worship, the divine body, etc., by a professor in the University of Calcutta.

234. Dermenghem, Emile. (Tr. by Jean M. Watt)
Muhammad and the Islamic Tradition. N.Y., Harper, 1958. 191 p. $1.50 Originally written in French. A concise, scholarly summary of Islamic origins and history. Selected bibliography and many excellent illustrations. For the general reader.

235. Fausset, Hugh I'Anson.
The Flame and the Light; Meanings in Vedanta and Buddhism. N.Y., Abelard-Schuman, 1958. 232 p. $5.00 A penetrating exposition and joyous acceptance of the religious thought of ancient India, by a son of the vicarage in England who has been drawn to "the eastern path." He opposes all Christian missionary effort among Hindus.

236. Jeffery, Arthur.
Islam: Muhammad and His Religion. The Library of Religion. N.Y., Liberal Arts Press, 1958. 252 p. $1.75 A well-chosen anthology of traditional Islamic literature, for students of religion, edited by the distinguished Professor of Semitic Languages at Columbia University. Index of Qur'an citations.

237. Landav, Rom.
Islam and the Arabs. London, Allen & Unwin, 1958. A good textbook for the university student level, dealing with Islamic civilization (Arabic in particular), its history and manifold contribution to mankind. The last chapter considers present problems by countries. A select bibliography of English books. The author teaches in the College of the Pacific, San Francisco.

238. Lichtenstadter, Ilse.
Islam and the Modern Age. N.Y., Bookman Associates, 1958. 228 p. $4.50 A "depth study" of Islam, as both a religion and a way of life, its fourteen centuries of development, and its encounter with modern thought and political-social systems. The author, a veteran scholar in Islamic culture and Arabic literature, has traveled widely in the Near and Middle East. She writes with clarity and discernment.

239. Malalasekera, G. P. and Jayatilleke, K. N.
Buddhism and the Race Question. Paris, UNESCO, 1958. 73 p. 150 fr. or $0.50 Two Buddhist professors argue for the biological and spiritual unity of mankind and proclaim the tolerance of their faith toward all races and cultures.

240. Masutani, Fumio.
A Comparative Study of Buddhism and Christianity. Tokyo, The Young East Association, 1957. 193 p. $2.00 An earnest attempt, by a Japanese Buddhist scholar and educator, to present a judicious, comparative appraisal of Christianity and Pure Land Buddhism. The discussion is academic yet sensitive.

241. Perry, Edmund.
The Gospel in Dispute. Garden City, N.Y., Doubleday, 1958. 230 p. $3.95 A searching examination into problems and frustrations of the Christian encounter with other missionary religions. Sympathetic and fair to the major non-Christian faiths, without compromising the Gospel message. The author is a professor at Northwestern University.

242. Weber, Max.
The Religion of India; the Sociology of Hinduism and Buddhism. (Tr. and ed. by H. H. Garth and D. Martindale) Glencoe, Ill., The Free Press, 1958. 392 p. $6.00 Accurate and intelligible translation of an important work on sociological and psychological aspects of Indian religions; written several decades ago by an eminent German scholar (1864-1920).

243. Winslow, Jack C.
The Christian Approach to the Hindu. London, Edinburgh House Press, 1958. 62 p. 2/6 A concise outline of Hindu religion today, its function and meaning in the life of present-day Indians and the relation of Christianity to it.

C. JUDAISM

244. Baeck, Leo.
God and Man in Judaism. N.Y., Union of American Hebrew Congregations, 1958. 77 p. $1.50 Reprint of an essay first published in English translation in 1931, by a devout German scholar who suffered in a concentration camp during World War II; luminous in content and style.

D. COMMUNISM

245. Alwaye Study Conference, August 14-17, 1957.
The Communist Rule in Kerala and Christian Responsibility. Bangalore City, India, Bangalore Press, 1957. 49 p. Report of papers and discussions at the Alwaye Study Conference, August 1957, attended by 40 Indian Christians.

246. Benton, William.
This Is the Challenge; the Benton Reports of 1956-1958 on the Nature of the Soviet Threat. N.Y., Associated College Presses, 1958. 254 p. $3.95 "An account of former Senator Benton's trip to the Soviet Union and his efforts to awaken America to The Russian Challenge -- in education, in science, and in technology."

247. Boyajian, Dickran H.
A Light Through the Iron Curtain. N.Y., Vantage Press, 1957. 75 p. $2.75 The author, a native-born Armenian and now naturalized U. S. citizen, was a delegate to the National Church Assembly in Communist-controlled Armenia, in 1955. Here he describes his journey, experiences and impressions.

248. Communisme et Missions; Rapports et Compte Rendu de la XXVIIe Semaine de Missiologie Louvain 1957. Bruges, Desclée de Brouwer, 1958. 192 p. 100 F. A volume of essays by twenty Roman Catholic scholars on Communist theory; diagnosis of the Communist danger in various areas and countries especially as it affects the Christian mission. The final chapter is a thoughtful look into the future.

249. Cuninggim, Merrimon, ed.
Christianity and Communism; an Inquiry into Relationships. Dallas, Texas, Southern Methodist University Press, 1958. 136 p. $4.00 Discussion of Communist thought and history in relation to Christianity, as a social and political and theological concern. By professors of Perkins School of Theology, under sponsorship of the Methodist Board of Social and Economic Relationships. Readable and useful.

250. Department of State.
The Sino-Soviet Economic Offensive in the Less Developed Countries. Washington, D. C., U.S. Government Printing Office, 1958. 111 p. $0.60 (European and British Commonwealth Series 51) A paper prepared by the U. S. Department of State "on the basis of a careful study of material available from a great many different sources."

251. Hunter, Edward.
The Black Book on Red China. N.Y., The Bookmailer, 1958. 172 p. $2.00 A sensational indictment of the Communist regime in China. One chapter is entitled, "Martyred Religion." Prepared for the Committee of One Million Against the Admission of Communist China to the U. N.

252. Leonhard, Wolfgang.
Child of the Revolution. (Translated from the German by C. M. Woodhouse) Chicago, Ill., Regnery, 1958. 447 p. $6.50 A young German Communist grows up in Russia and is trained for foreign service; disillusioned he breaks with Stalinism in 1949 and moves to Hungary, thence to England. An absorbing true story about Russia from the inside.

253. Lu Ting-yi
"Let Flowers of Many Kinds Blossom, Diverse Schools of Thought Contend!" Peking, China, Foreign Language Press, 1957. 39 p. HK$ 0.15 Exposition of the famous policy of great intellectual freedom, enunciated by Mao Tse-tung in 1956, a freedom that was later severely curtailed.

254. Luard, Evan.
Chinese Foreign Policy. (13th Conference, Institute of Pacific Relations, Pakistan) London, Royal Institute of International Affairs, 1957. 13 p. $0.40 A concise and useful interpretation of Communist China's foreign policy toward other Asian countries and toward the West.

255. McVey, Ruth T.
The Calcutta Conference and the Southeast Asian Uprisings. Ithaca, N.Y., Cornell University, 1958. 28 p. $1.25 (Interim Reports Series) A study of the influence that the left-wing Calcutta Conference in 1948 had upon later Communist rebellions in Asia.

256. Rewi Alley. (Alley, Rewi)
The People Have Strength. Peking, China, The Author, 1954. 281 p. HK$2.00 Sequel to Yo Ban Fa, selections from Alley's China diary in the years 1952-1953. Vivid account of Communist national-building and of the awesome man power that is being mobilized.

257. Rewi Alley. (Alley, Rewi)
Yo Ban Fa! (Second edition) Peking, China, The New World Press, 1955. 216 p. $1.20 "We Have A Way!" Published selections from the 1951 diary of the New Zealand engineer who for many years promoted "industrial cooperatives" in China, is now engaged in technical education under the Communist regime.

258. Steiner, H. Arthur.
The International Position of Communist China; Political and Ideological Directions of Foreign Policy. N.Y., American Institute of Pacific Relations, 1958. (13th Institute of Pacific Relations Conference Papers) 42 p. $1.00 A carefully documented study, by the Professor of Political Science at University of California in Los Angeles.

See also: 206, 207.

E. GENERAL AND OTHER RELIGIONS

259. Braden, Charles S.
The World's Religions: A Short History. N.Y., Abingdon, 1958. 256 p. $1.25 (paperback) Paperback edition of the 1954 revision. A standard brief account of the world's religions, revised and brought up to date at several points, notably in the chapter on Japan. New material on the religions of the Aztecs, Mayas and Incas has been added.

260. Eliade, Mircea.
Yoga; Immortality and Freedom. N.Y., Pantheon, 1958. 529 p. $6.00 (Bollingen Series LVI) A monumental piece of research on the history and traditions of Yoga and its ascetic techniques. The volume contains a full analysis of available literature. Translated from the French.

261. Gundry, D. W.
Religions; a preliminary historical and theological study. London, Macmillan, 1958. 189 p. 16s. A discerning and sympathetic study of religion and the religions - all levels and forms - from the viewpoint of Christian theology, by a Welsh scholar.

262. Lalou, Marcelle.
Les Religions du Tibet. Paris, Presses Universitaires de France, 1957. 101 p. $1.60 (in U.S.) A concise history of religion in Tibet, including Christian and Buddhist influences, the rise of Lamaism, modern developments and religious institutions; by a competent French scholar.

263. Lewis, John.
The Religions of the World Made Simple. Garden City, N.Y., Garden City Books, 1958. 191 p. $1.00 An extremely good popularization of the study of religion and the religions, varieties of Christian belief and organization, mysticism and humanism. Objective, interesting, clear.

264. Mondale, Lester.
Values in World Religions. Boston, Starr King, 1958. 109 p. $3.95 The author, a Unitarian minister, looks at world's great religions as they affect the daily life of common people. The closing chapter: "Ethical religion, A New World Religion."

265. Pike, E. Royston.
Encyclopedia of Religion and Religions. N.Y., Meridian Books, 1958. 406 p. $5.95 Comprehensive information on founders and great personalities, doctrines, rites, scriptures, and organizations of the religions of the world.

266. Suzuki, Daisetz T.
Zen and Japanese Buddhism. Tokyo, Japan Travel Bureau, 1958. 150 p. The celebrated Japanese religious philosopher, now nearly ninety, distills his rich scholarships and insights in this historical resume of Japanese Buddhism, particularly Zen Buddhism. For popular reading.

267. Van Straelen, Henry.
The Religion of Divine Wisdom. Kyoto, Veritas Shoin, 1957. 236 p. $6.00 A brilliant and appreciative study by a noted European Roman Catholic scholar who has taught for many years in Japan. The Tenrikyō (Religion of Divine Wisdom) is a new syncretist faith, with some similarities to Christian Science, which originated in revelations to a prophetess Nakoyama Miki in 1838. It now claims several million adherents. The book ends with a call for a "supra-cultural Oriental Christendom."

268. Wach, Joachim.
The Comparative Study of Religions. N.Y., Columbia University Press, 1958. 231 p. $4.50 A masterful concentration of the literature of the systematic study of the religions, which organizes their essential elements under the rubrics: The Nature of Religious Experience; The Expression of Religious Experience in Thought, in Action, and in Fellowship. Edited with an introduction by Joseph M. Kitagawa.

VIII. S O C I A L A N D P O L I T I C A L S C I E N C E

269. Atwater, E., Butz, W., Forster, K., and Riemer, N.
World Affairs, Problems and Prospects. N.Y., Appleton-Century-Crofts, 1958. 621 p. $6.95 An encyclopedic textbook on world affairs today - tensions, crises, ideological conflicts, and proposals for adjustment of difficulties - with questions for study and discussion, and bibliographies.

270. Buck, Pearl S., and Romulo, Carlos P.
Friend to Friend. N.Y., The John Day Co., 1958. 126 p. $2.50 A frank and warm-hearted exchange of opinions, between a Filipino leader who has spent much time in the United States and an American who lived long in Asia, about America's position and responsibility in the world today. An unusual little book that should be widely read.

271. Flack, Michael J.
Sources of Information on International Educational Activities. Washington, D. C., American Council on Education, 1958. 114 p. The title of this useful and timely book issued by the American Council on Education desceibes its purpose and content. It contains the sources of information about the educational opportunities and programs, plans for study, scholarships, fellowships etc. for all who desire either to study or to teach in an international situation. Educational agencies throughout the world which can furnish relevant information to those who desire to teach or study in the U.S.A. or to those in the U.S.A. who desire to work in other countries. Invaluable reference work.

272. Francis, Roy G.
The Population Ahead. Minneapolis, University of Minnesota Press, 1958. 160 p. $3.75 First-rate papers by nine specialists and a summary of discussions by other participants on various aspects of the world's serious population growth problem.

273. Kahin, George McT., ed.
Major Governments of Asia. Ithaca, N.Y., Cornell University Press, 1958. 607 p. $7.25 A volume of solid and illuminating chapters on current political developments in China, Japan, India, Pakistan, and Indonesia, written by five outstanding authorities on the Far East. Excellent bibliographies.

274. King, Martin Luther, Jr.
Stride Toward Freedom. N.Y., Harper, 1958. 230 p. $2.95 Dr. Martin Luther King, gifted young churchman and famous Negro leader, tells the story of his race's heroic, non-violent resistance in Montgomery, Alabama, and expounds his own social and religious philosophy. "This book may well become a Christian classic," says Bishop James A. Pike.

275. Laubach, Frank C.
The World Is Learning Compassion. Westwood, N.J., Revell, 1958. 251 p. $3.50 The compassion of Jesus, Dr. Laubach believes, is overflowing the Church, chiefly the American Church, into world society. Illustrations are drawn largely from American Christian missions, philanthropies and relief projects, and UN activities. The author paints a naively utopian picture of the future when "Russia and China will cease to fear and hate us and will imitate our war of amazing kindness."

276. Reuter, Paul.
International Institutions. N.Y., Rinehart, 1958. 316 p. $5.00 A professor of International Law at the Sorbonne examines the history of international relations since ancient times and the functions of modern international organizations and institutions. Valuable as textbook or reference work.

277. Schuman, Frederick L.
International Politics; the Western State System and the World Community. Sixth Edition. N.Y., McGraw-Hill, 1958. 745 p. $7.50 Latest revised edition of a voluminous and widely-used college text, covering the past, the present, and future possibilities in international relations.

278. Schweitzer, Albert.
Peace or Atomic War. N.Y., Henry Holt, 1958. 47 p. $1.50 Dr. Schweitzer's reasoned and fervent appeals for a renunciation of nuclear weapons, broadcast from Oslo, Norway, in April 1958.

279. Snow, Edgar.
Journey to the Beginning. N.Y., Random House, 1958. 434 p. $5.00 Well-known reporter of the Asia scene, author of Red Star Over China, Snow here presents a "personal and political history" covering three decades; full of interesting experiences and adventures; colored by a strong bias toward the Communist revolution.

280. Stuart, Alexander J.
Overpopulation, Twentieth Century Nemesis. N.Y., Exposition Press, 1958. 240 p. $4.00 A valuable collection of data on the history of population increase, and present trends in various countries, with some startling conclusions. "Unless some way can be found to stop the growth of world population an explosion appears inevitable and if it does not take the form of a devastating atomic war, it will be a miracle."

281. Textor, R. B., and Others.
The Social Implications of Industrialization and Urbanization. Calcutta, UNESCO, 1956. 268 p. $3.00 (in U.S.) Four major countries of Asia are represented in these expert sociological studies of urban populations composed of migrants from rural areas; the authors are mostly Asian scholars.

282. United Nations, Department of Economic and Social Affairs.
World Economic Survey 1957. N.Y., United Nations, 1958. 227 p. $2.50 Detailed study of current economic facts and trends and various types of countries, especially problems of inflation.

See also: 2, 46, 92, 100, 106, 114, 116, 125, 151, 156, 198, 229.

IX. ANTHROPOLOGY AND RELATED SUBJECTS

283. Eiseley, Loren.
The Immense Journey. N.Y., Random House, 1957. 210 p. $3.50 (First published 1946) An anthropologist with scientific mind, poetic vision and mystic faith, gives us a wonderfully beautiful book on the history of nature and man, the mystery of life and the destiny of the human race.

284. Halpern, Joel Martin.
Economic Development and American Aid. 1958. 30 p. Written from the viewpoint of a cultural anthropologist, with constructive criticisms of American aid programs.

285. Hogbin, H. Ian.
Social Change. London, Watts, 1958. 257 p. 21s. The dynamics of social change among primitive peoples, and the influences which bring about or delay change. A fresh and enlightening anthropological approach. The author is an Australian scholar.

286. Padilla, Elena.
Up from Puerto Rico. N.Y., Columbia University Press, 1958. 317 p. $5.00 Three-fourths of a million Puerto Ricans live in New York City. A Columbia University anthropological team studied a portion of this new migrant throng for three years and produced this factual, sympathetic and highly readable book. The work of Protestant and Roman Catholic churches in "Eastville" is covered.

287. Sahlins, Marshall D.
Social Stratification in Polynesia. Seattle, University of Washington Press, 1958. 306 p. $4.50 Thorough, pioneer study of an entire culture area, showing that social strata have resulted from differentiation of economic functions rather than from property inequalities.

288. Wagley, Charles, and Harris, Marvin.
Minorities in the New World; Six Case Studies. N.Y., Columbia University Press, 1958. 320 p. $6.00 Case studies of several different minority groups - Indians, Negroes, French Canadians, and Jews in both North and South America. Factual, clarifying analysis, from the viewpoint of cultural anthropology. A book of foremost importance, by two Columbia University professors, under UNESCO sponsorship.

See also: 83, 102, 122, 175, 180, 186, 214, 215, 216, 222.

X. THEOLOGICAL, WORSHIP AND DEVOTIONAL

289. An Order for Morning and Evening Prayer and a Service of Worship. Madras, Oxford University Press, 1958. 20 p. $0.25 (in U.S.) "Authorized by the Executive Committee of the Synod, September 1957, for optional and experimental use in the Church of South India."

290. Bishop, Jim.
Go With God. N.Y., McGraw-Hill, 1958. 410 p. $5.00 In an introductory chapter the author describes a critical incident in his family life where prayer played an important part. In succeeding chapters he records prayers of statesmen, priests, industrialists, poets and actors - an unusual collection from many ages and faiths. A real contribution to the anthology of prayer.

XI. PUBLICATIONS OF THE MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY

July - December, 1958

Occasional Bulletin. Published ten to fourteen times a year at the nominal subscription rate of $1.00 for the calendar year. No additional charge for postage, domestic or foreign.

No. 7. Mission Board Policies With Relation to Missionary Personnel. By Frank W. Price and Kenyon E. Moyer. Based upon a survey by A. M. Warner. 8 p. $0.15

No. 8. Selected Bibliography of Books, Pamphlets and Articles on Communist China and the Christian Church in China. By Frank W. Price. Introduction and bibliography. 21 p. $0.15

No. 9. List of Theses in Foreign Missions and Related Subjects During the Academic Year 1957-1958. Compiled by Frank W. Price and Martha W. Clement. With index. 10 p. $0.15

No.10. North American Protestant Missions in 1958. By Frank W. Price and Clara E. Orr. 30 p. with tables. $0.50

Book Notes. Issued monthly. Free to subscribers of the Occasional Bulletin or upon request.

July-August.	Summertime Miscellany.
September.	History.
October-November.	Latin America and the Caribbean.
December.	North Africa - South Africa.

Selected List of Current Books and Periodicals, January-June, 1958. $0.50

Directory of North American Protestant Foreign Missionary Agencies. By M.R.L. Research Staff. 92 p. $1.50

The Theology of Missions in the Twentieth Century - A Bibliography. By Gerald H. Anderson. Listing of nearly 400 books and articles. 36 p., including index. $1.00

GTU Library
3 2400 00645 5921